The Pump Rage FG

- 1 The Pump technology provides the maximum combination of fit and support by allowing the athlete to add an appropriate amount of air into the chamber that surrounds the ankle, holding the foot securely in place. A customized fit is achieved by manually increasing or decreasing the amount of air in the chamber.
- 2 Griptonite™ is an anti-slip coating that has been applied to the inside heel of the shoe. This tacky non-slip coating was developed by Reebok's in-house team allowing players to catch the football more efficiently. The Griptonite™ non-slip coating inside the heel helps lock the foot securely in the shoe and prevents the shoe from slipping off of the player's foot.
- 3 Laceless Bootie Technology provides a unique snug and secure fit which enhances the athlete's touch and feel. By removing the laces, Reebok provides a large, clean surface area which enhances the athlete's ability to feel and strike the ball. The bootie is made from stretch spandex which provides a snug, sock-like fit that hugs the athlete's foot in a unique and extremely comfortable manner.
- 4 ETC Technology is a sockliner top cover that drastically reduces friction and heat build up which helps to provide the athlete with excellent comfort and performance. Friction can lead to discomfort and blisters and the use of ETC top cover material helps to keep both in check, allowing the athlete to perform at a high level in comfort.

Feature/Benefits: The Pump technology/Customized fit, stability, support, comfort • Microfiber synthetic leather upper/Comfort, touch and performance • Laceless Stretch Span bootie construction/Slug fit, no laces for increased strike area • Griptonite™ anti-slip inner heel coating/Excellent heel locking • External heel counter/Optimal placement for comfort and support • Molded sockliner with Poron™ inserts and ETC cover/Comfort, stud dispersion with reduced friction, moisture and heat build up • Longer medial side forefoot studs/increased traction for quick directional change • Dual density launch control TPU bladed outsole/Comfort, stud dispersion and traction for firm/hard surfaces, midfoot support and increased forefoot flexibility
